News Magnate Says New Party Needed To Prevent Foreign Entanglements

POLITICIANS PICK NOMINEE

Washington — William Randolph Hearst announced Thursday that while he favors a third party ticket at the coming presidential election he is not committed to Henry Ford.

Mr. Hearst agrees with his fellow publisher, Frank A. Munsey, on the need for a third party but does not attempt to select its candidate. He has not, however, turned his back on William Johnson of California, an impression which swept the country after Mr. Hearst gave an interview in New Orleans on the Ford boom. He says "A great man is generally the creature of a great occasion; therefore, let us not despair. We have the occasion—it will create the man."

In a telegram to this correspondent, Mr. Hearst takes issue with the inferences drawn from his New Orleans interview. The text of Mr. Hearst's telegram follows:

"I notice in one of your dispatches an extremely interesting and important interview with the noted publisher, Mr. Frank A. Munsey. Mr. Munsey said the time is ripe for a third party. I agree with him."

NEW PARTY NEEDED

"The time has been ripe for a third party for several years; that is to say, for several elections the people have been disgusted with both of the old parties."

"But people are hard to win away from the old habits and they have expressed their dissatisfaction by voting out the old party that was in and voting in the old party that was out."

"This situation has been an easy one for the party machines and the privilege seeking interests to deal with."

"The machines have cooperated and protected each other no matter which party was in power."

"The only difference between the parties has been that the Democratic party has had sufficient remnants of Democratic consistency to make professions of service to the public, but not enough conscience to live up to its professions."

"The Republican party has had no consistency except in service to the interests and no conscience in that."

"A situation has developed, therefore, which absolutely demands a third party if the public is to secure the service from its government for which government was created."

JOHNSON OR FORD

"The man has not yet appeared, but he may be William Johnson or he may be Henry Ford."

"Independence as a nation, independence as individuals are what the people want. Government with the consent of the governed, the kind of government we started out to secure, as defined in our Declaration of Independence, the kind of government which, after one hundred and fifty years of effort, the American people today distinctly have not got."

DENIES REPORT

"You write in your article that I had said that I would support Henry Ford."

"I did not say anything of the kind, and some one of the papers which carried my interview must have misquoted me."

"I did not say whether I would support him. I was not asked whether I would support him."

"I was asked what I thought of Henry Ford's strength before the public and I said that I thought he was the strongest Democrat before the public, and that if there were a presidential primary, which there is not Henry Ford would be nominated on the Democratic ticket, but that since the nominations were made by machine controlled conventions, and it took a two thirds vote in the convention to nominate, I felt sure Henry Ford would never be nominated by a Democratic convention."

"That is why we have Henry Ford as ambassador to England, in spite of all the humiliating things, to genuine Americans, he has said and done."

Francis Bradford, Appleton Boy, Wins Prix De Rome For Painting

FRANCIS Scott Bradford, 24-year-old son of Attorney and Mrs. F. S. Bradford, 334 Prospect-st., has been awarded the Prix de Rome in painting, the greatest and most valuable prize for American student artists, by the American Academy in Rome. This prize, valued at between $5,000 and $6,000, entitles Mr. Bradford to three years' instruction in the great art academy in Rome with all expenses paid.

Announcement of the prize was made by American Academy late Thursday night and on Friday morning the New York newspapers carried long articles descriptive of the young artist. So far as is known here, Bradford is the first Wisconsin man to win the coveted honor. Only a few months ago the young man won the Mooney scholarship which entitled him to three months' instruction in the Fontainebleau school in Paris.

IS COMING HOME

Bradford is expected to leave New York for his home here on Saturday and on June 27 he is scheduled to sail for Paris where he will begin his work at the Fontainebleau school. At the expiration of his term there he will enter the American academy in Rome.

No information has been received by the young man's family here concerning the picture which won the prize for him. It is known, however, that in February Bradford, with twelve twenty and thirty other artists, submitted their work in competition for the honor. Something over a month ago the judges announced they were unable to reach a decision among three young artists, one of whom was Bradford, and they ordered a month's competition under the supervision of the judges. Subjects were assigned to the three contestants and they were given a limited time in which to complete the work. The contest started May 1 and ended last Saturday night and on Thursday the judges announced that Bradford was the winner.

Bradford, in his letters home, did not state the picture assigned to him.

LIVE IN ROME

The Prix de Rome, it is understood here, provides that the winner shall take up his residence in the academy at Rome where he will work under the supervision of the greatest artists of the old world. He is given $1,000 in cash for each of the three years and his tuition at the school is free. It is understood that his living expenses at the academy, to be paid out of the $1,000 a year, are nominal. The prize also gives him the right to return to his home in the summer of the third year, with all expenses paid, or he may spend the summer traveling in Europe at no expense to himself. Numerous journeys to the great art collections of Europe during his three year term also are included in the prize.

The rise of Bradford in the world of art is a most interesting story. During his school days in Appleton, prior to the war, he showed no indications of artistic ability. He had little or no interest in art and, contrary to the usual start of artists, he did not spend his time drawing pictures. It was his ambition to be a lawyer and enter the law firm of his father.

BECOMES AN OFFICER

After graduating from high school here he entered Lawrence college where he was a sophomore when the United States entered the World war. He and his brother Alfred were among the very first Appleton men to apply for appointment to the first officers' training camp at Fort Sheridan and both were admitted. Both were commissioned as second lieutenants at the end of the school.

Francis was sent to Camp Custer where he was attached to the Sunset division and in a few weeks was sent to France as one of the "First Hundred Thousand." It was months before he saw action, however. Finally, at his own request, he was attached to the Fourth division and sent to the front lines. In the fighting in the St. Mihiel sector he led his company.

SEVERELY WOUNDED

The fighting at Verdun nearly cost him his life. In that battle his company was trapped by a German machine gun nest and practically wiped out. Bradford was shot through the head, arm and leg and was left on the field for dead but he recovered and crawled to the backlines where he was picked up and sent to the military hospital at Bordeaux. After his recovery he was sent with the army of occupation. About that time a regiment of picked men, including the most stately and bravest soldiers in the American army, was formed as a guard of honor for General Pershing, and Bradford was selected as an officer for this world famous unit. He remained with the general until he returned to America, taking part in the great review at Washington.

Soon thereafter he was sent to a hospital at Des Moines, Iowa, for surgical treatment resulting from his wounds.

FRANCIS SCOTT BRADFORD

He was advised him to forget all else and devote his time to art. The young man, however, was determined to become a lawyer and after recovering

SENATE VOTES TO PUT WEIGHT TAX ON AUTOS

Expect New License Method To Raise $6,000,000 For Highways

Madison—The Senate early Friday endorsed, 17 to 14, the highway committee weight tax bill imposing a graduated fee upon automobiles ranging from $10 to $26. This measure would raise $6,000,000 annually from car owners and is a companion measure to the 2 cent gasoline tax bill recently advanced.

The upper house vote came after a session that extended through the morning and was renewed at night, continuing until well past midnight.

With favorable action on both amended highway committee tax bills in the senate their sponsors are confident that they can get the two measures through the assembly without any material change. If this is done the state will receive $9,000,000 annually from automobile owners for the support of its roads.

The weight tax bill, engrossed by the senate establishes a graduated license fee based upon weight. Application of this fee, ranging in steps from $10 to $26, would produce $6,000,000 to go into a central fund, together with the $3,000,000 from the gasoline tax. Of this total $9,000,000 75 per cent would go to the state for construction and maintenance of a 10,000 mile state trunk highway system while 25 per cent would be returned to the counties to be used as the county board directs.

Before engrossing this weight tax measure, the senate killed two amendments intended to impede a highway privilege tax on automobiles to take the place of the local personal property tax. Returns from this proposed tax would have reverted to the cities.

MASONS' CONCLAVE ENDS IN BIG DANCE

2 Tons Of Cornmeal Spread On Streets To Prepare For Hop

Washington—The three pullman car cities which housed thousands of the Shriner's attending their annual convention here had dissolved into special trains Friday which began the homeward exodus in the early hours.

The convention program was brought formally to a close with the pageant and dancing on Pennsylvania-ave Thursday night, but the pageant was being repeated Friday for the benefit of Washington school children. There also were several entertainment features, including a marine corps, intantary demonstration on the program to day for Shriner's young members.

The convective rows to a climax of festive color and crowds Thursday night, not even eclipsed by inaugural scene on the avenue.

Before the last float in the pageant of historic scenes had passed the president and Mrs. Harding in their stand in front of the White House, thousands of spectators had swarmed into the street in the rear of the procession. Those who had viewed it from the capitol end of the avenue passed up town until at one time the density of the crowd in the vicinity of the treasury building gave the police an exciting time in trying to control it.

The sudden swarming of the crowd estimated at more than 150,000 people on the avenue somewhat disrupted the plans for spreading the two tons of corn meal thrown on the street in preparation for the dance of the states. The dance got under way and continued for more than an hour on a stretch of eight to ten blocks, to the strains of band music distributed by amplifiers over the thoroughfare.

STATE WILL OFFER REWARD FOR PURNELL

Michigan Contemplates New Action In Case Of King David

By Associated Press
St. Joseph, Mich.—Possibility of a reward being offered by the state of Michigan for the apprehension of "King" Benjamin Purnell, for whom a warrant charging a statutory offense has been issued, was being discussed here Friday upon the arrival of Attorney General Andrew Dougherty of Michigan for a conference with Col. Ray C. Vandenberg, head of the state department for public safety. Governor Alex Groesbeck is said to favor the offering of a reward, and action may be taken by the state administrative board soon, it was indicated.

WILL TEACH FLEMISH AT BELGIAN UNIVERSITY

By Associated Press
Brussels—The Belgian senate by a vote of 92 to 46 decided that Flemish should be the language used in all courses given at Ghent University. At the same time however, the senate voted 92 to 65 that certain courses could be taught in French.

The senate last March rejected a bill to convert Ghent university into an exclusively Flemish language institution.

Meet Here To Put New Life In Democrats

Madison — Democrats of Wisconsin will meet at Appleton Saturday to consider reorganization of their party and the determination of issues that will be brought into the campaign for presidential electors in April, 1924, as well as in the November general election of that year.

Local leaders of the party are preparing for the conference, which they believe will mean rejuvenation of the Democratic organization in the state. They express the opinion that the Democrats should take advantage of divisions within the Republican ranks to advance their position.

Indications among Democratic politicians here were that the conference would divide itself over the prohibition issue. Some dry members of the party are against injecting the issue in the next campaign, while the wet are prepared to make it the party's outstanding campaign principle.

Reorganization of the Democratic party central committee is to be attempted, with selection of new officers and an active campaign organization.

BRITAIN SAYS GERMAN OFFER HAS IMPROVED

Berlin Communists Call New Plan Victory For Hugo Stinnes

Paris—Paris and Brussels are keeping constant communication Friday, discussing the advisability of making a reply to the new German reparations note ignoring it entirely as not susceptible of forming a basis for negotiation. In the event a decision is reached that a reply be made, the French government is reported to favor a cut dismissal of Germany's latest proposition.

Belgium, on the contrary, is said to be desirous of wording the acknowledgment in such a manner as might leave the way open for a further parley.

The French foreign office maintains an absolute official silence on the subject, but the indications appear to be that a reply will be made and that Germany will be required to announce, to continue, or abandon her passive resistance in the Ruhr.

The Belgian cabinet strongly favors a common interrelated reply, but it seems certain that a joint answer will be possible only if London agrees to leave no doubt in the mind of the Berlin government as to the absolute necessity of discontinuing the Ruhr resistance. Upon this point, Belgium and France are solidly agreed.

There has been no direct communication between London and Paris on the subject, the British viewpoint being transmitted to the Quai d'Orsay through Brussels.

The expectation here is that Great Britain will agree that Germany must admit defeat in the Ruhr, and that a joint note will be drafted and despatched to Berlin Saturday.

London—British diplomats were reluctant Friday to express an opinion regarding Germany's latest reparations offer beyond saying they considered that in certain points it represented an advance over previous proposals. Until the foreign office experts have analyzed the fundamentals of the new note, however, in authority prefer not to commit themselves regarding what steps, if any, Great Britain will take toward the solution of the indemnities problem.

It can be said nevertheless, that the British government would favor the settlement of the allies difficulties with Germany by an international conference on Berlin's proposals or by adoption of the suggestion of Secretary of State Hughes that Germany's capacity to pay be determined by an international commission of experts.

In responsible quarters, the assertion is made that British political circles feel the entire reparations controversy could be settled by Great Britain with Germany in a fortnight except for the inflexible, uncompromising attitude of France.

After the foreign office experts have completed their study of Berlin's latest offer, the British cabinet will consider the subject early next week.

It is learned on the highest authority that Downing street considers the reparations note constitutes a genuine German offer, the details of which were decided upon in Berlin without any sort of negotiation with the allies.

BERLIN APPROVES

Berlin—Most of Friday's Berlin newspapers approve the new reparations memorandum forwarded to the powers Thursday by Chancellor Cuno. The Communist "Red Flag," however, observes that the government's new proposals represent a victory for Hugo Stinnes.

FOUL PLAYS FEARED AFTER TWO DAY HUNT

Absence Of Rhinelander Solort Ties Up Upper House On Revenue Measure

MORAN OPPOSED TO BILL

Legislator Disappears Where Tax Bill Discussion Opens In Senate

BULLETIN
Madison — The whereabouts of Senator Bernard Moran, Rhinelander, whose absence has tied up Senate action on tax bills pending in the upper house, remains a mystery, the sergeant-at-arms reported Friday afternoon. He has no records from police in the cities where the senator is acquainted, which would throw light on his activities since last Tuesday night.

An effort is to be made later in the afternoon to raise the call throwing over a vote on the tax question until next week. By that time it is thought that Senator Moran may be located.

Madison—The mysterious disappearance of Senator Barney Moran as the senate came to an issue Friday on the tax problem, caused the upper house to be tied up under a call while Sergeant-at-arms C. J. Leitch was directed to ask police officers of the state to aid in the search for the missing member.

Charges of "foul play" were made on the senate floor by Senator George B. Skogmo as Senator Moran continued to remain out of sight despite a very thorough search.

The vote of the Rhinelander senator is crucial in the tax fight with announcement by Socialist members that they are going to vote for Governor Blaine's tax bill.

Faced with a vote on the question which means a changed tax policy, Wisconsin, Conservative senators demanded that Senator Moran be brought into the chamber before the issue could be drawn. He is expected to oppose the tax measures of the Progressive Republicans.

Following the statements of Senator Skogmo intimating that something appeared to be mysterious in the disappearance of the Rhinelander senator, Cuckuk introduced a resolution which set out "that the Sergeant-at-arms be, and is hereby directed to use every means, regardless of expense to secure the attendance of any absent senator or senators."

Senator Moran was seen for the last time Tuesday afternoon, just before the tax bills were scheduled for consideration Wednesday. He disappeared that night. A call of the house was put on early Thursday to compel his appearance, but the sergeant reported to the upper house that he had exhausted every possible clue without finding a trace of the missing man.

When this report was made, Senator Skogmo rose and declared that he "was almost tempted to fear that possibly Senator Moran may have met with foul play."

"I am not so sure," he said, "that this might not be more serious than it may seem at first blush. There is an air of mystery about it all. This senator," he continued, "was in the chamber the forepart of this week, appearing to be in good health. He very suddenly dropped out of sight."

"We want the strong arm of the law brought into this case so far as it may be invoked. There have been ugly rumors about foul play for the past two days. The sergeant should go to the bottom of this thing to find out their basis."

"So far as I am able to force it, this search will continue for an indefinite period until it is cleared up."

Sergeant Leitch announced Friday that he had called up on the Milwaukee and Madison police to aid in the search. He is communicating with the police in the northern part of the state in an effort to enlist their aid in the hunt for the senator.

According to the sergeant, police officers have the power to take a legislator into custody and hold him until an officer of the legislature comes to get him.

Senator Moran is the only absentee from the upper house. Upon his vote will depend the outcome of the entire tax fight, senate leaders say, since the Socialists vote has been turned to the administration.

After the senate went under a call, Senator Skogmo declared that it would be held there for a week if necessary, before a vote would be allowed on the tax issue should Senator Moran fail to show up.

SLEUTHS SEEK TESMER KILLER IN TWO STATES

Friends Of Blue Eyed, Smiling Murderess Trailed To Milwaukee

By Associated Press
Chicago—The police and operatives of the state attorney's office Friday extended outside the state their search for the blue eyed smiling girl bandit who slew Richard C. Tesmer, wealthy man at his home here Thursday night.

Mrs. Gertrude Getson, foremost among the dozen or more suspects, is being sought in Milwaukee, where she recently is known to have stopped at a hotel. Discounting the theory that Tesmer was killed by members of a ring of automobile thieves which the insurance man has vigorously prosecuted, the police say they are convinced that robbery was the motive for the holdup of Tesmer and his wife, which ended in the former's death.

Milwaukee — Miss Ann McCarthy, sister of Mrs. Gertrude Getson, one of three suspects wanted in connection with the slaying of Richard C. Tesmer, Chicago, was today taken to police headquarters for questioning by the Milwaukee and Chicago police.

Miss McCarthy is employed at a local hotel.

MOTORMAN HURT IN CORNER CRASH

A taxicab of Smith Livery and Transfer company driven by Eric Protter, crashed into a eastbound street car at Appleton-st and College-ave at about 6:45 Friday morning, breaking a front window of the street car vestibule. The taxicab was approaching from the north on Appleton-st and in making a turn to the west struck the car when about 100 feet west of Appleton-st. George Meisinger, motorman, jumped back and falling, bruised his leg. Frank Miner, a passenger, who also was in the vestibule was uninjured.

Senate Defeats Bill Repealing Blue Laws

By Associated Press
Madison—The Wisconsin blue laws survived an attack directed at them in the senate Friday when the upper house, by a vote of 18 to 12 killed the Grann bill, already passed by the assembly, legalizing Sunday amusements, shows, sports and dances.

The stand of the senate means a continuance of the Wisconsin Sunday observance statute that has remained on the statute books since 1848, notwithstanding repeated attempts of the legislature to remove them.

Senator Henry Roethel, Fenimore defended the blue laws, charging that the attack on them was directed by the motion picture industry. He declared that in his opinion "movies are a curse to the country and should be abolished."

Senator Quick, Socialist, Milwaukee, asked repeal of the law, asserting that the senators who now opposed their repeal had voted to kill his measure providing one day rest in seven for workers.

Labor unions, the Wisconsin League of women voters, the Wisconsin retail grocers' association, and other organizations have protested against repeal of the Sunday laws as a step toward legalized work on Sunday for all occupations. Senator Titus told the Senate. He opposed the bill.

The vote by which this attempt to open up Sunday amusements was killed follows.

For blue laws—Barber, Bilgerson, Casperson, Clark, Garey, Huber, Johnson, Kuckuk, Lanza, Ridgway, Ross, the Schumann, Severson, Skogmo, Smith, Studenmayer, Teasdale, Titus—12.

Against blue laws—Benfer, Burke, Cashman, Czerwinski, Gettelman, Hirsch, Kemp Morris, Polakowski, Quick, Werden, White—18.

DIRIGIBLE CREW OF FIVE FIGHTS STORM 14 HOURS

By Associated Press
Belleville, Ill.—After a fourteen hour fight against the elements, during which the crew of five was at the mercy of the wind for two hours, when the rudder control broke, the A. C. 1, big semirigid dirigible, Friday morning, crashed safely to Scott field, near here from Wilbur Wright field, Dayton, O.

Officers at Scott field described the performance as another chapter in the romance of aviation, asserting the 325 mile trip proved the prowess of big semirigid craft in bad weather flying.

GOVERNOR WILL KILL BILL TO WIPE OUT T. B.

Senate Appropriates $1,000,000 But Blaine Veto Is Expected

Madison—The Schumann bill appropriating $1,000,000 annually for bovine tuberculosis eradication in Wisconsin was unanimously passed by the Senate last night after attempts had unsuccessfully been made to reduce the amount to $750,000 and $500,00.

Senator Henry Huber said that he could announce for the Governor that the $1,000,000 appropriation bill would be vetoed should it get through both houses. He declared that funds were not available in the treasury to meet the added expense. His amendment cutting the amount to $500,000 was defeated.

AMEND CONSTITUTION

The Price joint resolution amending the constitution so as to empower the state to establish a system of rural credits for the development of its agricultural resources was engrossed by the assembly 42 to 12.

The assembly finally passed the bill creating a perpetual "public education memorial fund" from half the moneys paid into the state as inheritance taxes. The vote was 61 to 6. The bill now goes to the senate.

The assembly declined to duplicate the action of the senate of passing Governor Blaine's veto of the finance committee income tax refund bill. Twenty three assemblymen voted to override the Governor and fifty-nine against.

WILL TEACH FLEMISH AT BELGIAN UNIVERSITY

By Associated Press
Brussels—The Belgian senate by a vote of 92 to 46 decided that Flemish should be the language used in all courses given at Ghent University. At the same time however, the senate voted 92 to 65 that certain courses could be taught in French.

The senate last March rejected a bill to convert Ghent university into an exclusively Flemish language institution.

FEAR EFFECT OF FURNITURE CAR SHIPPING RULES

Chamber Of Commerce Protests Against Proposed Carload Minimum

Protest against proposed changes in minimum carload weights of furniture and a corresponding change in freight tariffs, because of their effect on furniture manufacturers in this vicinity and especially Appleton Toy and Furniture company, was voiced by the directors of the chamber of commerce at a meeting Wednesday evening. Arterial highways and the coming of the Milwaukee boosters were the other topics up for discussion.

According to information furnished the chamber by Julius Kahn of Appleton Toy and Furniture company, tariff officials propose that a tariff ruling be instituted which will require that the weight of each 36-foot car of furniture be a minimum of 20,000 pounds and that a 50-foot car be a minimum of 32,400 pounds. The Appleton toy concern maintains that it cannot possibly send that weight of furniture in its cars and that the ruling would greatly jeopardize its freight shipments.

The directors have made plans to protest concerning this ruling. Other chambers of commerce in the valley will be notified of the action and encouraged to protest for the sake of industries in their cities which will be similarly affected.

Work will also be continued on the attempt to get better connections between Appleton and Madison. Business men are particularly handicapped by the fact that in order to return from Madison at the end of the day, they must leave the capital city at 5 o'clock and not reach home until 3 in the morning.

The discussion of the arterial highway system took place when the matter was being presented to the city council and so no further action was taken by the chamber officials. The report of the program which has been proposed for the reception of the Milwaukee boosters in Appleton on Monday was taken up. The board especially urged that the stores remain open until 11:15 on that evening so that the visitors could inspect Appleton places of business.

HAD ACCESSORY STEALING MANIA

Police Recover Automobile Parts From Boys Stealing For Weeks

Through the work of Detective Matthew McGinnis and Officer Albert Deltgen a quantity of automobile accessories were recovered from youthful thieves Thursday. The lot contained seven motometers, two automobile whistles and a jack. The last mentioned article, however, was found by the boys, who admit theft of the other articles. The accessories were not disclosed, are 12 and 13 respectively. One of the boys was turned to the deed by the dead, broke down and confessed.

A few of the accessories have not as yet been identified by the police. The jack which the boys found belongs to William Fraas, 805 Maple Grove-st. A whistle which had been taken belonged to the Darby garage. Two motometers, one belonging to the Ford Rental company, the other to Dr. J. B. McLaren, were returned. Another was taken from a car parked at Calmes corners and is said to belong to the Gibson garage or August Jahnke garage. One was taken from a car parked in front of Nichols garage, 611 Harrison-st. Another was taken from a car parked at Post-Wood company, and still another from a car parked at Lincoln school. An other motometer had been traded, according to the boy's confession. The accessories were stolen in March and April.

The boys had not been making a business of selling the accessories, the police learned but had been giving them away. They seemed to be obsessed with a form of kleptomania.

TOURIST SWARMS NOT YET ARRIVING

Tourists going north through Appleton are not as numerous up to this time as they were last year according to reports from the hotels in the city. It is thought, however, that one of the reasons is that Memorial day fell in the middle of the week rather than nearer the weekend.

Last year when the holiday was on Tuesday, many people made a trip to the north starting Saturday noon and continuing through Memorial day. The cold weather up to last week is also blamed for the late start of the tourists.

PLAN FUN PROGRAM FOR S. S. MEMBERS

Congregational Church Will Issue Refreshment Tickets Sunday Morning

All children of the First Congregational Sunday school who attend the church field day at Pierce park next Thursday, June 14, are to be supplied at the Sunday school hour at 9:30 Sunday with five tickets each good for free ice cream lemonade or other refreshments which the church will have at its stand. This is one of the means the church has adopted of giving the children an enjoyable day's outing.

The program for the day is all arranged, and is so outlined that it includes amusement for both old and young. The idea throughout has been to make the field day an all church affair and not for the children only. The men especially are being urged to attend.

There will be baseball games at 11 o'clock in the morning as the first events of the day. Basket lunch will follow at 12 o'clock with coffee or lemonade available at the park. In the afternoon there will be a story hour, a play festival arranged by Miss Martha Chandler and an athletic program planned by H. P. Buck and A. P. Jensen. Everybody will have a part in one or more of the stunts according to the plans.

The membership is divided into six districts with a captain for each. Each group is striving to have the largest attendance, and to win the largest number of points in the games. Ribbons will be given individual winners, and a trophy to the winning district. Each section will have an aim band of a designated color.

HEALTH NEEDED TO FIGHT BATTLES OF LIFE, PUPILS TOLD

Dr. Elsom Speaks At Commencement Exercises Of Kaukauna H. S.

Kaukauna—Development and perfection of the physical structure in which one lives for creating health, happiness and efficiency, which is considered the best ammunition for preparation and training to fight the battles of life, was emphasized in the commencement address of Dr. C. J. Elsom, University of Wisconsin, at the high school graduation exercises Thursday evening in the city auditorium before a capacity crowd of friends and relatives. If one's attitude is right, the speaker declared, one is learning daily all through life. It is not book knowledge which plays the important part in success.

Thirty-nine high school seniors were presented to the public by Principal Leo G. Schussman and the diplomas were awarded by Herman T. Runte, president of the board of education. Melvin Tate, fourth member of the class, has been seriously ill from pneumonia for several weeks and was unable to be present. He is, however, slowly recovering.

STUDENTS SPEAK
Florence Goetzman, class valedictorian gave a talk on "Community spirit brings success to cities. In his salutatory address entitled "Education Yesterday and Today," Harold Frank traced the development of education from the days of our grandfathers and touched upon the necessity of physical education which formed the main theme of the commencement address.

Harold Frank also was awarded the Lang trophy cup for the distinction of being the best all around student in the school. The cup is awarded annually by A. M. Lang, jeweler, to the student who not only is good in scholarship but who takes an interest in activities outside of his regular duties.

After presentation of the diplomas, Miss Marion Newton, class president, gave a talk in which she explained the nature of the class gift to the school. Two historical friezes, which have not yet arrived, will be presented for decoration of the new high school. One frieze portrays the landing of Columbus, the other the landing of the pilgrims. Miss Newton also presented Mr. Schussman a roll top business desk and electric floor lamp as gifts from the high school faculty and students. Musical numbers were rendered by the girls' glee club, a male quartet and the orchestra.

NEED HEALTH RULES

"Health is the most vital part of the ammunition of life," said Mr. Elsom in his address, "and to gain health we must observe the very simplest rules, the first of which is fresh air. Breathing is one of the life giving principles of life; we cannot get along without it. Another simple fundamental to health is exercise. There are over 500 muscles in the body and in exercising them we are gaining self control in our broader education. Food and cleanliness are other simple elements in health. Cleanliness not only includes the body but the mind, body and speech. The influence of the mind over the body is a wonderful event in human nature. One can become sick merely by thinking seriously that he is sick."

"Success requires determination, grit and confidence. Character also is one of the main objects of life. It is not what people think we are but what we are that counts. Then in the battle for success by means of health one must not forget recreation and relaxation which are good for old as well as the young."

SHOULD MAKE FRIENDS

As a final point the speaker emphasized the ability to make friends and mix socially as a point toward success. Social education is not to be neglected these days, he said.

The roll of 1923 graduates is as follows:

Myron, Black, Arno; Bayorgson, Bertha; Callahan, Harold; Derris, Lucille E.; Dietzel, Harold; Frank, Elmer; Glimmer, Helen; Guilfoyle, Leo A.; Hoesly, Karl P.; Hansen, Malcolm T.; Jacobson, Olive; Eleanor; Jacobson, Frank; Jankowicz, Mildred M.; Kern, Jacob P.; Korman, Laura E.; Mau, Milton; Metz, Oliver W.; Miller, Irene R.; Mooney, Marion E.; Newton, Elmer F.; Or, Gordon; Patten, Carl; Peitz, Lilian H.; Sager, Dorothy A.; Smith, Lucille; Virginia; Smith, Hazel; courses: Esther Marie Mau, Rex W. Radach, Elizabeth Schussman, Melvin R. Tate, Latin course; Russell W. Brenzel, Laura A. Buehler, Ella W. Denzer, Florence M. Goetzman, Edward J. Ludtke, Marie C. Moss, Lorraine Mitchell, Alma A. Verburgh, English commercial course.

The bridegroom is a telegraph operator.

New London—Miss Josephine Denzle and Edward Zimmer, were married at 3:15 Wednesday morning by the Rev. Father Kaster in the parsonage of the Most Precious Blood church. Miss Marquette Reardon was bridesmaid and Clayton Bowman of Menasha was best man. After a wedding breakfast the couple left for an auto trip through the northern part of the state. REVIEWS HIS WORK FOR CITY'S GOOD

Schussman Presents Last Graduation Class Of Old High School

Kaukauna—The old high school on Lawrence graduated its last class Thursday evening. By next fall it is expected the new building will be ready for occupancy. This was the thirteenth graduating class of Kaukauna high school and the largest in its history. It also is the last class which will be presented to the school board by Principal Leo G. Schussman, whose term of service expires with the end of the school year. He has presented graduating classes of the last ten years.

"The closing hour of the present school year has come," said Mr. Schussman in a short address. "For the tenth time it is my pleasure to present to the school authorities a class of young people to receive the diploma of the high school. But not only does it terminate the work of the present year, it also severs my connection with the public schools after a period of 14 years as assistant in the high school, principal of the training school, and as superintendent of the citizens of Kaukauna I have grown to consider this my home town and to look upon you as home folks. That there should be some feeling of regret on my part at the peculiar manner of my going is but natural and that you bear with me for a brief moment is but just."

GAVE PUBLIC SERVICE

"I recall various phases of contact with the vital concerns of the community and nation as they occupied local attention. First was the organization of the training school, then public services of various sorts such as Memorial day addresses. Then there was work as the secretary of the Advancement club for several years."

"Kaukauna's present boy scout movement has its origin in a training of eight youths in my home some years ago out of which has grown the troops and the present affiliation with scouts of the valley. The present provisions of the municipal and school playgrounds had their beginning in a vacant lot opposite our home on Eighth and Spring-sts as a means of providing a square deal for the children of the neighborhood."

Mr. Schussman recalled the last war and said that he lays no claim to super-Americanism but that he is proud to match his war record with those of persons who at present see fit to cast remarks upon those who kept the home fires burning during those trying times. During that period Mr. Schussman was busy on numerous committees and organizations including the Red Cross, council of defense, four minute men and others. These were carried on outside the regular school work.

NO EXPLANATION MADE

"Whether it is in these services that there lies the reason for the peculiar situation which confronts me tonight, I cannot say. The reason has been asked but no answer has been made. I have been informed by the authorities that it is the wish of the people."

"Time will not permit entering into detail concerning the work of the schools during the past ten years. Some of you know the long struggle against overwhelming odds, in the face of bitterest opposition which was waged for the new high school building. The dream has now become a reality for the splendid structure rises like a portent of hope for children of the city. That another will have the pleasure of leading these young people whom I have learned to love into the new building is one of the ironies of fate. Why has been asked, but the reason for my abrupt dismissal is not yet clear."

"Well, by God! I knew you had the gall of the devil, but—see here, Gray, don't you understand what I can do to you? I don't want any trouble with you, but one word from me and—"

"Of course you want no trouble with me, but, alas! my dear Colonel, you are going to have it. Oh, a great deal of trouble. More trouble than you ever had in all your life. Either you are going broke, or I am." Gray's tone changed abruptly. "For your own good remove your hand from the neighborhood of that drawer. I am too close to you for a sun-play. Good! Now about that one word from you. You won't speak it, for that would force me to utter nasty truths about you, and you would suffer more than I, this being your home town where you are respected. And the truth is nasty, isn't it?"

Colonel Nelson had grown very white during the long speech. He rose to his feet and laid one shaking hand upon his desk as if to steady himself.

"You think you can beat me—want to make it a money fight, do you? Well, I'll give you a beautiful Every dollar you will go to smash you—smash you!"

"Splendid!" Gray was on his feet now and he was smiling icily.

"Are you gentlemen going to talk forever?" The inquiry came in a woman's voice. Both Nelson and Gray turned to behold a smiling, animated face framed in a crack of the door.

"Miss Good!" Calvin Grad strode forward, took the girl's hand in his and drew her over the threshold. "My dear Miss Good, I have rummaged half the state, looking for you."

"I hope I'm not interrupting. I turned you and—"

Gray held her hands more firmly. "Never. Do you think I shall risk losing you again. Colonel Nelson and I had finished our chat and were merely exchanging pleasantries."

"Nelson managed to say."

"Colonel! Are you a colonel, too?" the girl inquired, and Gray bowed. "We were commissioned at the same time and place, but Colonel Nelson received his a moment earlier than I received mine, therefore he outranked me. Now then, permit me to retire while you and he—"

"Oh, there's nothing confidential about what I have to say. It's good news for my partner, and I'm sure he'd love to share it." To Nelson she announced, "Pete has a showing of oil!"

The vice president of the bank murmured something which was lost in Gray's quick inquiry: "Partner? Are you a partner of Colonel Nelson's?"

"After a fashion. We own a twenty-acre lease west of 'Burk'—that is, I have a quarter interest and Henry is putting down a well. I drove out there, and his driller told me it is looking good."

Gray turned a keenly inquisitive gaze upon his enemy, and what he saw, or fancied he saw, gave him the thrill of a new discovery. It may have been no more than intuition on his part, but something convinced him that his acquaintance with Miss Good deeply displeased the man.

In his warmest tone he cried: "Congratulations, my dear Colonel. However badly you have fared in the Ranger district, fortune favors you here. But why only a quarter interest? You put too low a price upon your blessings. I'll better that arrangement. Why, I was ready to offer Miss Good a full half of all I have when she played heartless jest upon me. Ran away! Disappeared! I'll admit I was piqued. I was deeply resentful, but—"

Nelson interrupted this flow of extravagance. "Miss Good?" he said, curiously. "Why does he call you that, Bob?"

"A secret! A little game of pretense," Gray declared, hastily. "For the sake of our friendship, Colonel, don't tell her my real name and rob me of the pleasure of hearing it from her own lips. Come, Miss Good! I am going to bear you away upon my arm, even at the risk of displeasing my superior officer. Ha! Luck the war is over. Now then, your promise!"

Henry Nelson stood motionless as he watched his two callers leave the bank together, then slowly he clinched his muscular hands, and from his lips there issued an oath better left unwritten.

CHAPTER XI
A NEW PARTNERSHIP

It was several moments after they had left the bank before "Bob" Parker could manage to slip a word in edgewise, so rapidly, so eager was Gray's flow of conversation, so genuine was his pleasure at again seeing her. Finally, however, she inquired cautiously:

"Are you really good friends? I felt very queer, the instant after I had walked in. But—I was bursting with good news and I couldn't see Henry's face until too late. Then it seemed to me—"

"Nelson and I are scarcely 'good' friends—we never were chummy—but we were thrown together in France and saw a lot of each other. He is a remarkably capable man and a determined fighter."

"You mustn't call me Miss Good any longer," the girl told him. "My name is Barbara Parker."

"Oh, I like that!"

"I'm more generally known as 'Bob.'"

"Even better! It sounds tomboyish."

"It's not. It is Tom Prakerish. Father insisted on calling me that—and it stuck. He's a man's man and my being a girl was a total surprise to him. It completely upset his plans. So I did my best to remedy the mistake and learn to do and to take an interest in the things he was interested in."

"Now were you?"

Miss Parker looked up from beneath her trim velvet hat and her blue eyes were defiant. "All that people like you disapprove of, all that you probably consider undignified and unladylike, such as riding, roping, shooting—"

"Riding—unladylike? It's very smart. And why do you say people like me?" There are no people like me."

"You know what I mean. You're not a Westerner. You are what a cowpuncher would call a swell Easterner."

Gray looked at his watch. "Even the good must lunch. Where shall we go?"

Barbara's brows drew together in a frown of consideration, and Gray told himself that she was even more charming when serious than when smiling. "Wherever we go, we'll be sorry we didn't go somewhere else. We might try the Professor's place. He's a Greek scholar—left his university to get rich in the oil fields, but failed. Then there is Promaine Tommy's. Cafes are good and bad by comparison. After you've been here a few days you'll enjoy Tommy's."

"Then I vote for his poison palace. The very name has a thrill to it. On their way to the restaurant, Gray said: 'Pa and Ma and Allie Briskow and the tiffness have gone to the mountains—Ma's beloved mountains—and they appear to be living up to her expectations. The mountains, I mean. The old dear writes me every week, and her letters are wonderful, even outside of the spelling. She hasn't lost a single illusion.'"

"And Allie has a tutor?"

"The best money could secure. And, by the way, you wouldn't have known the girl after you got through with her that day."

"There is a boy, too, isn't there?"

"Oh, Buddy. He's away at school. He'll make a doctor—well, if he doesn't. I'll beat the foolishness out of him. I've assumed complete responsibility for Buddy, and he'll be a credit to me."

To wrest possession of a cafe table for two at the rush hour was an undertaking almost as hazardous as jumping a mining claim, but Calvin Gray succeeded and eventually he and "Bob" found themselves facing each other over a discolored tablecloth, reading a soiled menu card to a perspiring waiter.

"Just what are you doing and how do you do it?" Gray wanted to know.

Barbara was glad to tell him about her brief and eventful experience since that morning at the Nelson bank when she had exchanged her coup, and she recited the story with enthusiasm.

"Having no capital to go on," she explained, "I merely bought and sold on commission so far, but I'm not always going to be a broker. I'm making good, and some day dad and I will be big operators. I've been able to buy a car, and most of my time I'm out in the field. They tell me I'm as good an oil scout as some of the men working for the big companies; but, of course I'm not. I merely have an advantage. I'll tell me more 'ban' than 'call a man.'"

"You are a brave child, and I admire your courage," Gray declared.

SUPPLY OF PIGS HERE FLUCTUATES

Rural Carriers Find Increases
In Some Towns, Losses
In Others

The towns of Greenville, Freedom and Ellington, as far as Appleton rural mail carriers could ascertain in the recent pig survey conducted for the United States department of agriculture, are productive of an increased supply of pigs this year, in spite of the losses from spring litters.

A decrease in the number of pigs was noted along some rural routes because of big losses in spring litters, due probably to the unsettled weather. On the route to Darboy few farmers were found that are raising pigs on a commercial basis.

Farmers in the immediate vicinity of Appleton also are raising swine mostly for their own needs inasmuch as the milk is brought to the city with no return for pig feed.

Rural carriers each were asked to collect data from ten farmers on their routes and their report should give a good average picture or "sample" of all farms on the route. The reports were mailed to Washington for compilation.

Goods Can Be Sold More Cheaply By Advertising Than In Any Other Way

Babson, Speaking At Advertising Convention, Tells How Publicity Helps To Stabilize
Business Of Country

Atlantic City — Roger W. Babson, guest of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World in convention addressed the main body of the meeting on Wednesday and Thursday. Mr. Babson is much interested in the latent power of advertising both in connection with the distribution of goods and as a factor in studying business conditions.

"When the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World was formed, there was a great need for systematic vigilance and guidance," says Mr. Babson. "The condition of the advertising world was far below average business in usefulness and morality. Advertising was largely confined to patent medicine manufacturers, theatrical troops, and bogus stock promoters. Advertising was considered a gambler's game. The old saying 'Everything is fair in war and love' was extended to read 'Everything is fair in war, love, and advertising.'"

DEVELOPED HONESTY

"The first task of the new organization was to form vigilance committees and bring about honest advertising. It deserves the greatest credit for the work it has done and is doing along this line.

"There are, however, other things which are equally important, and perhaps more important when all possibilities are considered. If one looks ahead to the future of advertising he sees three additional fields of development.

"The leading advertisers are each year giving more thought to the question of competitive advertising. By competitive advertising I mean advertising which does not benefit the country as a whole. There is nothing dishonest in both the Standard Oil Company and the Texas Company erecting large sign boards at the same point on a country road. Moreover, I am not criticizing either company for doing this. If one company does it, it is perhaps necessary for the other company to do it. I, however, am sure that these signs do not increase the sale of use of gasoline and in no way benefit the country as a whole.

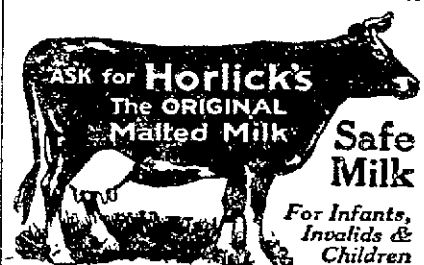

CONSUMER PAYS

"The cost of such competitive advertising is ultimately borne by the consumers. From an economic point of view such advertising is a direct loss to the nation as a whole. The people of a country are best off when they get the largest amount of goods for the least amount of labor. Therefore, we all should strive to eliminate, so far as possible, unnecessary labor and to use our labor for the actual production and distribution of goods. Instead of erecting competitive sign boards, carpenters should be building houses for working men; instead of using electric power for competitive advertising, it should be used for productive industrial purposes; instead of wasting newspaper on competitive advertising, the same place should be used for constructive advertising.

"Every sensible man recognizes the value of constructive advertising. Statistics show clearly that most goods can be sold more cheaply and effectively thru advertising than in any other form. Advertising, when properly used, is considerably cheaper than selling thru salesmen and clerks. Not only is the cost per paper less but, when selling through the newspapers or the mails the maker knows just what he promises. The firm, however, who depends upon a crew of salesmen does not always know what the salesmen promise. There are many other economic advantages gained through the intelligent use of constructive advertising.

"When business is recklessly expanding advertising rates should be materially increased; so when business is depressed advertising rates may be correspondingly reduced. One of the barometers of business is the size of our daily papers. I do not want to reduce the size of our papers over a period of years. Rather I want to see them continue to increase in size. I, however, do object to a big paper one year and a small paper the next year. Business conditions will become steady and gradually increase only when the amount of advertising becomes steady and gradually increases. Violent fluctuations in advertising are not merely the result of fluctuations in business, but are largely the cause.

General business as reflected in the Babsonchart continues in satisfactory volume, running this week at 2 per cent above normal.

NIESEN LEASES HIGH CLIFF TO MILWAUKEE MAN

M. H. Niesen, who has operated the outing park and resort at High Cliff for ten years, has leased the property for one year to Wenzel A. Schmidt of Milwaukee, who has taken possession. Mr. Schmidt will hold his formal opening on Sunday with a big celebration.

The new resort operator is said to have had considerable experience in the work and is planning a number of novelties for the summer. Mr. Niesen said he was obliged to give up his work at the park because of the demand on his time made by the pulp company at Kaukauna in which he is interested.

CROWDS THROUGH ELITE THEA- TRE FOR FAMED FILM

H. A. Snow's remarkable picture of the Oakland Expedition to the Dark Continent, "Hunting Rhinoceroses in Af-attract capacity throngs at the Elite theatre. It is the talk of the town.

Thrills, comedy, adventure, romance are skillfully alternated. Side-splitting antics of West Coast penguins, oxen trek through the Union of South Africa, and the extraordinary and amusing use of firearms that replaced them, constitute high points that lead up to thrilling encounters on the interior plateaus with the largest mammals yet roaming terrestrial surface—herds of African "bull" elephants, deadly horned
Rhinos, treacherous buffaloes, lions, leopards and other great cats—which Mr. Snow and his son fearlessly met in the open and photographed with the unerring registry of animal drama and emotion. Surprise, wonder, hate, fear, ferocity even mother-love are expressed by the strange protagonists: the conflict, twist the brute world and the hunters is at times so thrilling as to evoke storms of applause.

MARTY LAMERS ON MOUND AT KAUKAUNA SATURDAY

Les Smith Is Choice Of Stumpf To Do Heavy Work For Electric City

Ruhlman To Get First Trial In Contest At Kaukauna—Lammers Still Is Able To Pitch Good Baseball

SATURDAY'S GAMES
Appleton at Kaukauna.
Fond du Lac at Marinette.
Oshkosh at Menasha.
Green Bay at Sheboygan.

Marty Lammers, the trusty second baseman of the Little Chute, probably will march on to the hill in Kaukauna baseball park Saturday afternoon to do the serving for the Papermakers in their set with the tribe headed by Eddie Stumpf. The Papermaker magnates, after scouring the woods for a week for another hurler, have about decided Marty will have to do the trick. They haven't been looking around for a pitcher because they felt Marty wasn't equal to the occasion but rather because they feared the infield will be weakened if the Little Chute man is taken away from the keystone sack. Marty, when he is going right, is as good a pitcher as there is in the league. Last Saturday at Oshkosh he pitched a whole of a game and should have won. One bad break in luck in all the kept him from stowing the game away.

Kaukauna hasn't had any more luck than Appleton in finding a pitcher for Saturday and it is probable that the kid Les Smith will do the heavy work. Les is a fair to middling pitcher, hardly good enough to hold a crew of wreckers like the Brautigans. If the home gang is going right at the plate it will be a hectic afternoon for young Mr. Smith.

Marty's place in the infield, if he is elected to pitch, probably will be filled by young Jake Ruhlman, late of Lawrence college. Jake is quite an athlete, entering almost everything that is open to him. He plays on football team and takes part in other college competition.

The rest of the Brautigan outfit will be the same as last Sunday. Last week's win over Fondy is expected to settle the squad and better baseball may be looked for. The team has been overanxious and it has kicked several plays because of this overanxiety to win.

Kaukauna probably has the smoothest working outfit in the league. Stumpf, a capable manager, has loaded his squad with pep and his own wearfulness keeps the rest of the crowd on their toes so that the unexpected can always be looked for when the Electric City crew is in action.

The game will start at 4:15 to permit employees of the mills to be on hand.

Do you know Baseball?
by Billy Evans

Questions—
1—If it is discovered that the batter is the wrong hitter, the count being two strikes and two balls at the time, can he be removed and the proper batter substituted?
2—With a runner on third and two out, batter strikes out, ball gets away from catcher, runner on third scoring, batsman reaching second. Batsman falls to touch first and is called out, retiring the side. Does run count?
3—Batsman steps out of box, having received umpire's permission to do so. As he steps back into the box and still is in motion, not having taken his position, pitcher delivers ball. Has he caught a right?
4—Ball strikes in foul territory and goes down third base line about a foot foul all the way. Then it strikes something as it nears the bag, bounces in and comes into contact with bag. Is it fair or foul?
5—Batter tries to dodge wild pitched ball. It strikes his bat and results in a grounder to pitcher who throws batter out at first. Can that be done?

Answers—
1—Manager has perfect right to substitute proper batter who takes the count of two strikes and two balls.
2—Run does not count as batter scores on a play in which the third out is a play on which the batsman fails to reach first.
3—Umpire should not permit the ball to be delivered until the batter had actually taken his proper position in the box. He should regard the pitch as nothing in such a situation.
4—It is a fair ball when it strikes the bag, regardless of the fact that it was foul all the way down the line.
5—Ball is in play in such a happening and fielder had the right to retire batsman at first.

APPLETON MEN GOING TO WAUPACA TOURNAMENT

Appleton transishioners are preparing to go to Waupaca on Sunday to participate in the registered shoot. Waupaca usually needs a large number of shooters to the Appleton tournaments and the local gun experts are planning to repay the visits.

CRIOU WILL MEET DUNDEE AT POLO GROUNDS JULY 30

CUBS WIN SECOND STRAIGHT OUT OF 3 FROM GIANTS, 9-7

Western National Clubs Continue Warm Reception To Easterners

Chicago—The temperature of the warm receptions they have been extending their eastern visitors was maintained Thursday by the western clubs of the National league. The Cubs of Chicago made it two straight out of three from the New York Giants, 9 to 7, and sent the world's champions on to Pittsburgh. The Pirates were kept from roughing the Brooklyn Robins again by rain.

St. Louis and Cincinnati also won, this time again from Philadelphia, 1 to 0 and the latter made it a clean sweep with Boston, 3 to 1. If the Cubs can hold up they will add a lot of interest to the National league race. They should prosper at the expense of Boston which starts a series there Friday after its disastrous Cincinnati attempt.

Just now the National league is quite interesting. The Cubs have demonstrated that New York can be beaten. Five clubs New York, Pittsburgh, Brooklyn, St. Louis and Cincinnati have played better than 80-50 ball since the season started, all having won more than half of their games; Chicago has lost only two less than it has won. Boston and Philadelphia are the easy marks of the circuit.

The Chicago White Sox were unable to continue their rampage against the New York Yankees because it rained in the fourth inning when the score was 0 to 0. Philadelphia gained half a game on the Yanks by again trouncing St. Louis, 8 to 5, and Cleveland pulled in its bid for second place by losing to Boston, 7 to 1. Washington made it two straight from Detroit, 16 to 4.

"Irish" Meusel of the Giants, by cracking out a brace of successive homers off Grover Alexander, accomplished a feat which no other player has ever been able to do during Alex's long career in the National league.

The Cardinals won their second straight inning victory when Ray Blades smashed out a triple and sent the only run of the game across the plate in the tenth inning against the Phillies.

Eddie Rombl, ace of the Athletics' twirling staff, picked up Thursday's game in the fourth, inning with the Browns in the lead, and pitched hitless ball for six innings while his mates came from behind and pulled out another victory.

Charley Holocheer, of the Cubs, had a perfect day at bat, cracking out five hits, one of which was a double, in five times up against a trio of Giant pitchers.

Sensational fielding by John Collins and Chick Fewster, and Howard Ehmke's brilliant pitching was largely responsible for the Red Sox victory over the Indians.

Homer Summa, the former Wichita Falls star, now with the Indians, had a great day in the field, accepting eight chances without a wobble.

Papermakers Far Down In List Of Fielding Averages In League

Brautigan's Crew Has Kicked 24 Of 291 Chances For .918 Average—Neenah-Menasha Team Heads List

Appleton's baseball team in the Wisconsin State league is only one peg removed from the bottom of the heap in the matter of fielding averages. Only Fond du Lac has a lower average than the Papermakers. Menasha-Menasha, with an average of .958 is leading the league. Appleton's fielders have booted 24 of the 291 chances they have had for an average of .918. Green Bay's average isn't much better than Appleton, kicking 19 out of 234 chances for a .919 percentage.

Thirty-seven players thus far have escaped having an error scored against them. This list includes Delmore, Len Smith and Stock of Appleton. Delmore has had 44 chances and hasn't booted a one thus far. Len Smith has made good in the 16 chances that he has had.

'Y' SWIM CLASSES ARE LEARNING FAST

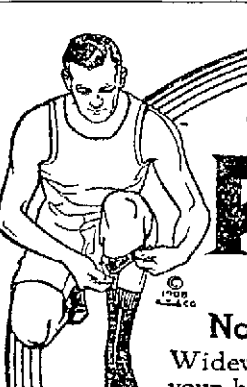

The men's and boys' swimming classes at the Y. M. C. A. are making very good progress since their inauguration on June 4. Some of the smaller boys, who seem to learn more easily than the older ones as a rule, have already mastered the art, sufficiently to swim across the tank, although they have not yet had their second lesson.

After the present classes have worked themselves into the routine of the business a little better. Physical Director Jensen intends to start classes of members of the Y. M. C. A. also, and to this end has begun a post card campaign to recruit new candidates for these classes. The periods will be from 5 to 6, 7 to 7:30 and 8 to 9 o'clock every Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday.

CHAMP ASPIRANTS MEET AT DETROIT ON JUNE 8

By Associated Press
Detroit, Mich.—Johnny Mendelssohn, Milwaukee, and Sauer Friedmann, Chicago, two lightweight champions who are among the most persistent campers on the trail of Champion Benny Leonard, meet here Friday night in a scheduled ten round bout. The bout, originally scheduled for May 28, was postponed because Friedman weighed seven pounds more than the stipulated 135.

GREEN BAY JOINS DESERTERS FROM AMATEUR LEAGUE

Desertion Of Three Teams In Week Threatens To End Circuit

Stormy Kromer has come to the conclusion that life is just one darn thing after another, especially when one is president of the Home Players' league. Following the example of Oshkosh and Kimberly, the Green Bay team has now dropped out of the league, which calls off the game scheduled between this team and Freedom for next Sunday, and cuts down the league to six teams, unless another of the independents decides to join before Sunday. Kromer attributes the dropping out of the three teams to their overanxiety to win games for the sake of the money that's in it, and to the fact that the players demand money for a sport which they should adopt for their own amusement. This has resulted in a peculiar situation, which pits teams against their own home town players, who have accepted the pay of some out of town team more prosperous than their own. There is a chance that either Apple Creek, Black Creek, or Hortonville may be willing to sign up with the Home Players, and any one of these three independent teams would be a valuable addition to the outfit.

GOLF TOURNAMENT STARTS SATURDAY

The preliminaries of the June handicap golf tournament will be started at the Riverview Country club links Saturday, June 9, the lowest eight net scores to qualify for the finals on June 24. The Saturday event will be open to all, and between them and the date of the finals, at least one round of match play must be played each week. The winner of the final match will have his name engraved on a cup given by the directors.

There will be a regular business meeting of the country club directors on Monday, June 11, at noon in the club house.

Old Alumnus Gets 'W' Won 50 Years Ago

By Associated Press
Madison—Fifty years ago E. W. Hulise of Boulder, Colorado, was a star pitcher on the University of Wisconsin baseball team.

Next week, Mr. Hulise, now an old man, will return to his alma mater to be awarded the "W" which he earned half a century ago, before college letters had become a custom among schools, as a recognition of athletic honor.

From 1868 to 1873, Mr. Hulise was a star pitcher on the varsity baseball team. He played the first year that baseball became a university sport and pitched in the games when the state championship was first won by the university at the state fair here in 1871, and in the next year 1872.

The athletic department says that the "W" was not thought of in those days. When the custom was established letters were awarded to former athletes.

Mr. Hulise, however, had never returned to receive his award, which is to be presented when he comes back for the fiftieth anniversary of his graduation.

Have You Seen The
ONE-HOUR
DRESS

Pettibone's has brought the "One Hour Dress" to Appleton. This is the dress that has been the newspaper sensation from coast to coast. Embodying all the season's distinctive points, it has all the season's simplicity.

If you do the plainest of sewing—you can make it.
An illustrated sixteen page instruction booklet gives directions in the simplest language, and was prepared by the garment's designer. The "One-Hour Dress" was created by Mary Brooks Picken, Director of Instruction of the Woman's Institute of Domestic Arts and Sciences, Scranton, Pa.

FREE
To Every Woman

An attractive sixteen-page booklet containing complete illustrated working directions for making the "One-Hour Dress" will be given free to every woman calling in the yard-goods sections.

These departments are displaying completed frocks—made in One Hour by employees of the store. Children's dresses can be made in the same time by following these instructions.

A "One Hour Dress" takes only three yards of material and the same amount of binding tape. Any material can be used, and the trimming may be more elaborate if you desire.

I Know A Lady

(A Friend of My Wife)

Who was suffering with rheumatism. On examination I found that the shoes she wore were crushing her toes and stopping circulation, thereby weakening her entire system.

The quality of the shoes was good, but the method of fitting them belonged to the days when eye-glasses were selected from the counter.

Of course, she insisted on wearing smart shoes. I sent her to the only store in town that sells the famous Dr. Kahler Shoes—because they specialize in fitting smart-looking shoes.

Upon examining her feet carefully they suggested a type of shoe that would allow the muscles full movement, influencing a return circulation; yet the shoes looked very smart and stylish.

Two weeks later I received a letter. The rheumatism was all gone; walking was again a pleasure.

If your feet bother you, drop in today and have a talk with us. It may be only a minor detail and easily remedied. The service is gratis, of course.
